CONCORDIA STINGERS TO HOST MCGILL MARTLETS

The Concordia Stingers women's basketball team, which has just completed its most successful regular season record in seven years, will host the crosstown McGill Martlets in a semi-final Quebec University Athletic Association Championship game on Friday night at 6:30 p.m..

The second-place Stingers, ranked fourth nationally by the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union, will be playing the third place Martlets for the fifth time this year. Concordia has won three of the four previous games, with McGill winning the last contest 59-58 on February 1st.

Concordia, who finished the regular league schedule with a 6-3 record and an overall mark of 19-9, was led this season by Joann Bourque. The former All-Canadian averaged over 13 points and 7 rebounds per game. Sue Hylland also contributed heavily to the Stinger cause with an 11 point per game average, while Carolyn Marriott averaged over 10 points per contest.

The McGill squad, ranked seventh in the C.I.A.U. poll is led by the trio of Linda Marquis, Annie Constantinides and Annette Kiss. All three players are averaging over 10 points per game.

The winner of Friday's game will play the winner of the Bishop's / U.Q.T.R. game on Sunday afternoon to determine the Q.U.A.A. champion. The league champion will then head for Winnipeg to participate in the C.I.A.U. National championship games beginning Thursday, March 3rd.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The first place Stingers have already clinched first place in the men's division, guaranteeing them a berth in the C.I.A.U. Regional playoffs to be held in Fredericton, New Brunswick, March 10th to 12th.

Following the women's game on Friday night at 6:30 p.m. the Stinger men will host the U.Q.T.R. Patriotes at 8:30 p.m.
